After a lapse of several years, forensic activity once again came into prominence on the NWMSC campus. The debate squad, coached by Miss Jean Kinnie, of the speech department, ably represented the college in several tournaments.

In the opening contest of the year, the squad won two out of four debates at Northeast Missouri State College at Kirksville. Don Barber, Bob Wilson, Bob Roberts, and Herb Anderson participated in the debates, with Bob Wilson entering the competition in poetry reading.

For the tournament at Fayetteville, Arkansas, Don McCullough teamed up with Don Barber, with Roberts and Anderson composing the other team. Victories of the two teams merited them a spot in the semi-finals in the persons of (Continued on Page Four)

Male Quartet Will Present Assembly

The Serenaders Quartet is slated to appear for the next regularly scheduled assembly, April 21, at 10:00 a.m.

They will present a program which is renowned for its versatility with everything from Rogers and Hammerstein to a selection from "The Requiem."

The quartet is composed of two tenors, Lawrence Lane and Ralph Nielsen; a baritone, Bernard Izzo; and a basso, Joseph Stephens.

The original purpose in forming the Serenaders Quartet was to secure Chicago's finest voices, and to blend them into one of the Midwest's greatest quartets. That they have achieved this is evident by their many radio, television and concert engagements.

Individually, and as a quartet, these men have appeared on most major network broadcasts emanating from Chicago, on many local broadcasts and on television.

Their first two concert seasons of more than 100 personal appearances included many college engagements, and also Community, Civic and Co-Operative courses.

Each is a solo artist of distinction.

Easter Is a Time of Beauty

There comes a lull in the life of the student after the festive excitement of Christmas and the New Year—there comes a time for quiet meditation and humble adoration—a time which stresses plain living and high thinking. This is the forty days of Lent.

Then when life is slowly bursting forth anew in springtime—then comes the holy festival called Easter, observed in many branches of the Christian Church to commemorate Christ's resurrection.

Many customs, beautiful and quaint, have been and are observed in churches and in homes as an expression of joy because Christ rose from the dead. Churches have special services for this closing of the forty days of Lent, and flowers of white, especially Easter lilies, decorate the altars as a sign of purity and light.

The sending of Easter eggs is a custom thought to have originated with Persians, the eggs being symbols of new life. Coloring them red typifies the blood of redemption; other colors have no special significance.

Easter is far more than a vacation from college; it is a time of spiritual beauty and new life which should hold a place in the heart of every student.

From the Alumni

Marine 2nd Lt. Fredrick D. Patterson, Jr., recently received his "Wings of Gold" and his commission at Pensacola, Florida.

Lt. Patterson attended the College in 1950 through 1952. He entered the Naval Aviation Cadet Program through the Naval Air Station, Olathe, Kansas.

Larry Krause, former student, was back on campus April 6 visiting friends. He is now an ensign in the U. S. Navy Air Corp. Larry was en route to San Diego where he will join his squadron for duty over the Pacific. He will be flying S2F multiengine carrier planes especially designed for submarine warfare.

Larry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Krause of Jefferson City, formerly of Maryville. Mr. Krause was the former editor of the Maryville Daily Forum. Larry's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Belcher, are Maryville residents, Mr. Belcher being secretary of the Business Office at the College.

Max Hochenauer, first lieutenant in the U. S. Marines, now has charge of the Marine Guards at Ft.

NAS, Pensacola, Florida. Max returned not long ago from his tour of duty in Korea where he was wounded in front line fighting.

According to George Coulter, via Larry Krause, Max is really doing a "nice job" at Pensacola. Max graduated from this college in May, 1951.

Tom Foster, former student, who received his wings at Pensacola sometime ago went to the West Coast for active duty.

George F. Coulter, graduate of 1953, was among the Marine second lieutenants completing the five-month officers' basic course at the Marine Corps Schools at Quantico, Virginia.

George is now in flight training at Pensacola, Florida.

Dr. Richard Leet, graduate of 1948, now a research chemist for the Standard Oil Company, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leet of Maryville, and friends at the College last week.

Dr. Leet was accompanied by his wife, the former Miss Phyllis Combs, graduate of 1946, and formerly of the College.

Miss Beatrix Winn of the college faculty is on leave in England. She plans to leave next Tuesday to go to Amsterdam and the next day will have tea at Utrecht with an old Dutch lady whose daughter she has met in England. She expects to spend three weeks in Holland, Belgium, and northern France, and return to Plymouth in time to greet Miss Dykes on her arrival.

Mr. Thomas H. Annett, head of the piano department of the Conservatory of Music, presented Alice Welling in a graduation recital Monday night. She was assisted by the college chorus under the direction of Mr. Charles R. Gardner.

Miss Welling's recital calls attention to the fact that the Conservatory of Music now has a total of 551 students enrolled in music courses.

Etta Suetterlin is editor in chief of the Green and White Courier.

Other editors are Richard Baker, Frank Cook, Alice Welling, Francis Medsker, and Bernice Swain.

Mr. Bert Cooper addressed the Excelsiors Thursday and stated that the American principle is something which causes the envy of other nations. This principle, he said, was manifest in our relief to the Germans after having defeated them in battle, and again in helping them when we ourselves were in a financial depression. It is a spirit, he pointed out, fostered by our public schools.

Miss Kathryn Franken, Mr. F. A. Thompson, and Mr. Leslie G. Summerville are making out the spelling formula for the new state course of study for Missouri.

The home economics department announces that their spring clothing contest will include under garments and outer garments. The former division will consist of combination suits, petticoats, night dress, brassieres and corsettes. The latter division will include skirt and middie or skirt for street or a dress suitable for street or school.

The department's assembly program April 3 depicted the evolution of woman's costume from Grandma's time to that of the debutante of 1924. Walking models of sartorial splendor strolled across the stage in perfect harmony with the syncopation of the jazz band. Suffice to say that the ultra-fashionable modes of 1924 were far more popular than the balloon sleeves, pleated basque, and sweeping train of Grandma's reign.

Miss Minnie B. James is formulating plans for an unusually large number of typists who have entered the fifth annual high school typewriting contest to be held here April 26.

THE STROLLER

There are two definitions for "passing the buck." One is concerned with the handling of money; the other is the raw deal of placing blame on someone else. Both occur often, but surely one's conscience would bother him if he were one of the many who do the passing and not the "stopping."

These warm spring days make car owners envy the drivers of convertibles. When you are buzzing around the campus in a hot steel covered auto and see a nice cool convertible go by with its top down you really feel as if you are about to burn up. The only consolation is to think how warm you are going to be next winter while a convertible owner is freezing.

Recipe of the year: meat loaf and celery, combination salad, hot soup and celery, carrots or celery stalks, one glass of milk, potato salad and celery, cold meat, sweet potatoes and chocolate pudding.

Feuding and fussing are two groups in the Bearcat's Den. When the TV viewers turn up the volume on the television set, the juke box listeners can't hear their favorite music.

To all girls sun bathing on top of Residence Hall: those low flying airplanes going over are just sight seers wanting to look at the college campus from the air. It's the hovering helicopters that you have to look out for.

So many good programs have been given on the campus recently that one hardly dares try to mention them without fearing to leave out some. The band assembly last Wednesday was superb! Every member and the director performed excellently. The recent play, "The Glass Menagerie," was professionally produced. The dance club recital was well done. Many persons had to cooperate on those programs to make them outstanding.

Agriculture Contests Are Held at College

Last Friday and Saturday Vocational Agriculture students and Future Farmers from high schools of Northwest Missouri competed in the district contests here at the college.

Those teams which will represent this district at the State Contests at Columbia, April 22, 23, and 24 will be entered in Livestock Judging, Dairy Judging, Farm Mechanics, Field Crops, Dairy Products, Meats, Poultry and Soils.

Contests for the members of Future Farmer chapters include Speech, Parliamentary Procedure, and Radio Skit.

R. T. Wright and F. B. Houghton of the State College Agriculture department were co-managers of the two-day judging for agriculture students of the Northwest district.

Parent Returns to Changed Campus

"My, what a lot of changes in a quarter of a century," said Mrs. Cloud Hall of Hopkins, Mo., as she entered the administration building on Parents' Day.

She was a guest of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Leet Hall, and it had been almost 25 years since she had visited the campus as a parent. Four of her ten children had been students here in the late twenties.

During a drive around the campus later in the day, she began to list the additions. She was amazed at all the parking lots filled with cars. College Heights, Student Union, Horace Mann School, the Quadrangle, Memorial Stadium, the new addition to the Residence Hall, the Library, and the Lake were among the improvements counted.

Teachers are Judges At Music Festivals

Barber and Anderson, who were defeated by Louisiana University. At this tournament Barber entered the extemporaneous speaking contest and placed third in the final round.

As the fall semester was ending, Bob Roberts and Herb Anderson represented the squad at a contest at William Jewell College. There the locals achieved top ratings as they ranked undefeated in all four of their debates.

At the University of Nebraska tournament, Roberts, McCullough, and Anderson composed a three-man team in the debate division, and each entered individual activities. Roberts received the top rating of superior in discussion and won a place on the Resolutions Committee in the final parliamentary session. McCullough entered the radio news-casting division, and Anderson competed in the extemporaneous speaking contest.

Warrensburg acted as host for the state tournament, March 4-6, at which the locals won two out of five debates. McCullough, Roberts, and Anderson all entered the discussion event, with Anderson receiving an excellent rating. McCullough also was entered in the after-dinner speaking contest, while Anderson in extemporaneous speaking received a top rating of superior to win the state tournament in that event.

Random Shots . . .

College trackmen failed to do too well in conference indoor meet. . . should make a better showing when the outdoor event is staged early in May at Warrensburg. . . Freddy Maher, freshman spikester from Red Oak, Ia., showed plenty of Maryville spirit by running a leg on the mile relay team minus a shoe and with blood pouring out of spike wound inflicted by teammate Jack Spence while passing the baton. . . even with this mishap the Cat two-some joined by Louis Linville and Ric Tilton finished a strong fifth. . .

"M" club initiation for new lettermen just concluded. . . the newcomers created a few laughs amongst the older members. . .

Golf and tennis addicts along with softball enthusiasts taking advantage of the balmy weather to enjoy their favorite forms of relaxation. . . In softball the hurling of "Big John" Flint has the intramural batters swinging at the still air. . . Race for top honors still a toss-up with any of the six clubs given a 50-50 chance for the title.

The intramural team trophy looks like it will wind up in the hands of the all-state athletic club for the second year running. . . big point splurges in the individual games have given the A. S. group a big advantage. . .

Graduation on the horizon for some of our top athletes. . . gone but not forgotten will be their many exploits of activity on the athletic fields. . . Uncle Sam has planned for many of their futures.

Regrets on Coach Dale Kessinger's resignation. . . though he failed to produce a conference champion in his two years here, his teams provided many exciting moments including a win over NIAA champs St. Benedict's. . .

A successor hasn't been named as yet with a long list of applicants being the screening stage. . . new coach will have a fine nucleus to work with for the 1954-55 campaign. . .
